

Commonly Used Interaction Terms

---

Term	Definition	Source
ate	Refers to a cataloged item that was eaten by the organism in the current record. Reciprocal relationship is "eaten by."	http://arctos.database.museum/info/ctDocumentation.cfm?table=CTID_REFERENCES eaten by	Refers to a cataloged item that ingested the organism in the current record. Reciprocal relationship is "ate."	http://arctos.database.museum/info/ctDocumentation.cfm?table=CTID_REFERENCES host of	Refers to a cataloged item that was a parasite of the organism in the current record. Reciprocal relationship is "parasite of."	http://arctos.database.museum/info/ctDocumentation.cfm?table=CTID_REFERENCES parasite of	Refers to a cataloged item that was the host of the organism in the current record. (The current record is a parasite.) Reciprocal relationship is "host of."	http://arctos.database.museum/info/ctDocumentation.cfm?table=CTID_REFERENCES interacts with	No specific interaction was recorded, but implied on the label	http://purl.obolibrary.org/obo/RO_0002437

Notes on Specimen Images: